

How the MOE Tuition Fee Loan (MOE TFL) Can Help with Your Tertiary Education Financing

Interest-free financing during course of study:

- MOE TFL: No interest charges while studying.
- CPF Education Loan: 2.5% p.a. interest upon deduction of CPF savings.

Tip: Consider long-term interest accumulation when choosing your loan!

Flexibility in unprecedented times:

- MOE TFL: May appeal for deferment of repayment and interest due to further studies or financial difficulties in loan repayment.
- CPF Education Loan: Deferment of repayment possible, but interest continues to accrue.

Note: Both consider appeals on a case-by-case basis (e.g. further studies, unemployment, medical conditions).

Varied maximum repayment periods for more financial flexibility:

- MOE TFL: 10 years (Diploma) / 20 years (Undergraduate degree)
- CPF Education Loan: 12 years

Tip: Evaluate total loan costs, including accrued interest, to determine which option suits you best!

Help your parents and loved ones secure their retirement:

- MOE TFL allows you to finance your education without using your parents' or loved ones' CPF savings.
- This enables family members to keep and grow their CPF savings for retirement.

Tip: By choosing MOE TFL, you can help safeguard your parents' financial security while pursuing your education!

Read more about how a mother financed her child's university education with the MOE TFL.

Learn more about the MOE TFL. Explore other education financing options from MOE and the institutions.

Please note that this information provided is not exhaustive and is subject to change.

For more information, please refer to CPF.gov.sg

Ministry of Education
SINGAPORE

